THE PENNSYLVANIA CONVENTION CENTER
OCT 2 2012
 PHILADELPHIA

Widener Law School is a supporting organization of the Pennsylvania Conference for Women, which will be held October 2, 2012, at the Pennsylvania Convention Center in Philadelphia.

Join us at the 2012 Pennsylvania Conference for Women! Registration is now open for this year's Conference, which will be held October 2nd in Philadelphia. The Conference features motivational keynote speeches, engaging workshops and panel discussions that cover a vast range of topics specifically designed for women, including healthcare, leadership, managing change, finding work life balance and personal finance. This year's theme, Imagine!, dares women to find their purpose and make a difference in our own lives and in the communities and world we live in. As a Supporting Organization of the Conference, YOU are entitled to a registration discount! Be sure to enter PACP98 when registering.

Widener Law Mini Relay for Life

WHEN: OCTOBER 13, 2012

9 A.M. TO 9 P.M.

WHERE: WIDENER LAW PARKING LOT

Relay for Life is an event that gives everyone a chance to celebrate the lives of people who have battled cancer, remember loved ones lost, and fight back against the disease.

Keeping up with tradition, the Harrisburg Campus of Widener Law will once again host a “mini” Relay for Life. This year, Relay for Life will take place on October 13, 2012.

Last year, we were able to raise $19,319 for the American Cancer Society thanks to the hard work and fundraising efforts of the students, faculty, and staff and we hope to exceed that number this year!

To sign up a team, or join an existing team, please follow this link:

Relay for Life Event Chairs

Widener will be participating with Lee's National Denim Day on Wednesday, October 31st in support of breast cancer awareness. Donate $5.00 for a pink ribbon pin and wear your pin and jeans on October 31.

Donations accepted by Jess in the Faculty Secretaries Office; Library Information Desk; or Paula in Administration Bldg.

You can also donate on our team page:

WIDENER SCHOOL OF LAW RECYCLING PROGRAM IS SINGLE-STREAM

Recycling has numerous environmental benefits. Recycling saves energy, conserves natural resources, limits pollution, and supports several sectors of the economy.

Here are some important statistics from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and other resource industry groups that will explain each of these benefits of recycling in greater detail. As you're reading, think how this could positively affect where you live and our environment.

Save Energy

- In 2003, the energy savings from recycling 54 billion aluminum cans exceeded the energy equivalent of 15 million barrels of crude oil – or the amount of gas the U.S. uses in one day.
- Another way to look at it: recycling 1 can = 3 hours of TV, so in 2003 the U.S. saved enough energy by recycling cans to run 162 billion hours of TV, or about 25 hours of TV for every man, woman and child on Earth.
- The Center for Ecological Technology found that the glass industry uses 50% less energy to create glass from recycled glass than from raw materials.
- Americans recycled about 40 million tons of paper products in 2003, creating an energy savings of 163 trillion (yes, with a "T"!) kilowatt hours of electricity.
- Recycling one pound of plastic soda bottles – or PET plastic - saves 1200 BTUs of energy (1 BTU is the amount of energy needed to raise a gallon of water by 1 degree Fahrenheit).
- 2005 saw the U.S. recycle 5 billion pounds of PET plastic, which equals a savings of 60 trillion BTUs of energy.

REDUCE! REUSE! RECYCLE!!

When you start looking for a job or internship during or after graduation, keep in mind there are several databases that can help you. These databases are typically arranged like a traditional directory listing company, or government agency by name with contact information for officers and key personnel in the organization. From these databases, if you do an advanced search for Widener University School of Law, you can easily generate a list of potential contacts to use in your job search. From the law library's full list of databases, use the D & B Million Dollar Database, or the Leadership Directories. The list of database can be found at:

<http://law.widener.edu/LawLibrary/Research/Databases.aspx>

The D & B Million Dollar Database claims to index over 23 million different companies worldwide. From the initial screen, you can search by company, phone number or industry code to start your search for companies. Clicking on the advanced search tab enables you to focus your search by company name, location, industry, company size, or contact information (such as, in job title or job function).

Leadership Directories, similar to the D & B database, allows you to search by company name, and industry, but it also gives you ways to "explore" people by a number of broad criteria such as legislative or government office, by corporate offices held, or even attorneys and lobbyists by specialty. This database has already created several "one-click" lists of professionals that you can browse, such as general counsels or human resource professionals.

Professional directory information is also available on both LexisNexis and Westlaw. In Westlaw, select Westlaw Classic and enter "profiler" in the "search for a database" box on the left-side of the screen to bring up a list of several professional directory databases that can be searched. If you run a terms & connectors search, you can search on fields such as "law school" to generate a list of attorneys who have graduated from Widener. In Westlaw Next, you can find this information by clicking on the "tools" tab on the opening screen and selecting "profiler."

In LexisNexis Classic, from the "legal" tab on the opening screen, select Martindale-Hubbell Listings, All from the list of databases. Using a terms & connectors search, you can select the Law-School "segment" to search for Widener law graduates. This can also be done in Lexis Advance if you click on the browse sources tab and type Martindale-Hubbell in the "search sources" box. You will then have to add the appropriate directories to your search. With both Lexis and Westlaw, it is helpful to search on the "law school" field combined with a city or state you are interested in to generate a focused list of potential professional contacts.

As always, if you have questions call the Information Desk at 717-541-3933 or click on the "Ask a Librarian" widget found on the Law Library's homepage at:

<http://law.widener.edu/LawLibrary.aspx>

Where will your dreams take you?

Imagine being in Lausanne, Switzerland, studying near beautiful Lake Geneva and the Swiss Alps and visiting the exciting international city of Geneva.

How about cruising along the grande canal in a gondola studying in the spectacular, romantic, and historic city of Venice, Italy?

Or, maybe you'll prefer the amazing experience of Nairobi, Kenya and studying in a beautiful country boasting world famous wilderness reserves and modern cities.
