3800 Vartan Way, Harrisburg, PA 17106-9380

Tara Leigh Grove is an Associate Professor at William and Mary Law School. Grove graduated summa cum laude from Duke University and magna cum laude from Harvard Law School. After law school, Grove clerked for Judge Emilio Garza on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, and then spent four years as an appellate attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice, where she argued fifteen cases in the courts of appeals.

In 2014, Professor Grove received the Plumeri Award for Faculty Excellence from the College of William and Mary. Grove was also invited to participate in a TEDx Event at the College of William and Mary in April 2014, where she gave a talk on executive power.

This lecture series honors John Gedid, one of the founders of the Harrisburg campus of our law school, the campus’s first vice-dean and the founder of Widener’s Law and Government Institute. Professor Gedid has served as a wonderful mentor to every faculty member the school has hired. The series showcases the work of nationally recognized young scholars much the same way Professor Gedid has fostered, encouraged and applauded the work of those who joined the school he helped to found.

Widener Law-Harrisburg to Host Central State Symposium on Criminal Sentencing, Capital Punishment and Penal System Reform

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: March 9, 2015

The Widener Law Journal (WLJ) will host its annual symposium on April 20, 2015, from 1:00 PM to 6:00 PM on Widener’s Harrisburg campus. WLJ will also live tweet the event @WidenerJournal and hashtag #WLJSymposium.

This year’s symposium topic is Halt & Reform?: Death Penalty & Criminal Sentencing Guidelines Reform. The focus at the local and national level will be on the administrative, constitutional and policy considerations in criminal sentencing guidelines, the 8th Amendment and capital punishment. The latter topic is particularly timely and relevant in Pennsylvania given Governor Tom Wolf’s recent decision to halt executions in Pennsylvania and the reaction among District Attorneys throughout the Commonwealth to challenge the decision.

We have invited members of the academic, public and private spheres to present and attend and promise to have a lively, engaging and informative discussion that approaches the topic from various points of view. Confirmed participants include:

- Associate Professor Shaakirrah Sanders, who teaches subjects related to government structure and individual rights and liberties under the United States Constitution
- Marjorie J. Peerce, a partner in Ballard Spahr LLP’s New York office and litigator with a practice focus on white collar criminal defense, regulatory matters and complex civil litigation
- Jim Fox, Chief Hearing Examiner of the PA Board of Probation and Parole, who has been part of a workgroup with the PA Sentencing Commission that is reviewing their guidelines
- Professor Thomas Place, who teaches Constitutional Law and Criminal Procedure at Dickinson School of Law and whose research and writing focuses on issues of access to the judicial system with a particular emphasis on postconviction remedies.

Other confirmations of public, private and academic sector presenters are forthcoming. The WLJ will publish papers following the symposium in Volume 25 (2015-16).

Registration:
- Early: $80 (through April 10th)
- Regular: $90 (April 11th or later)
- Discounted: $75 for alumni, government lawyers and academics

The Harrisburg Friends Meeting and The Center for Peace and Justice will show the movie “The Throwaways” on Saturday, April 25th in A180 at 7:00 PM. The filmmaker will be present for a Q&A after the showing.

The Throwaways is a personal exploration of the devastating impact of police brutality and mass incarceration on the black community told through the eyes of formerly incarcerated activist filmmaker Ira McKinley. With rawness, urgency and power, this award-winning documentary film speaks directly to the national movement rising up to fight back against a wave of police killings of black people in America.

Timely and provocative, The Throwaways is more than just an illumination of marginalized people at their weakest moments; it is a call to action, a story of directly engaging in the fight for justice.
